The Purpose

Country crossover and beach music fans provide the most listened to audience in Eastern North Carolina. This audience provides an attractive advertising means to draw these music fans into regional businesses. This appreciation is highlighted through the participation of many major media outlets (television, radio and print) and the support of thousands fans who, each year, enjoy new talent, new music and the drama of high-stakes competition.

The Carolina Country Stampede also promotes appreciation from families, music followers and the community in general for sponsors. This awareness of sponsors comes at a critical time of year - the beginning of the fourth quarter - the busiest time of year for many businesses.

To enhance your sponsorship, your businesses' name is associated through media advertising. If you paid full price for this advertising it could easily cost $10,000. How better else to associate your business or agency with a family weekend that carries the benefits of these advertising dollars?
